Flood insurance compliance can be complicated, and even seemingly minor missteps can lead to significant regulatory problems. From determining when coverage is required to calculating the appropriate amount of insurance, lenders must navigate a wide range of requirements throughout the life of a loan.

During this two-hour Webinar, we'll take a practical look at the flood insurance rules that lenders need to get right, with an emphasis on common compliance pitfalls and issues that continue to cause problems for financial institutions. We'll cover the mandatory purchase requirements and exemptions, flood determinations and notices, force placement, escrow, and key issues that arise when flood insurance coverage changes or lapses.

Whether you work in mortgage lending, commercial real estate lending, servicing, or compliance, this Webinar will help you stay above water and avoid getting caught in the current of flood insurance compliance.
