De-regulation Nation: The Trump Administration's Impact on Federal Banking Laws, Regulations, and Enforcement Efforts

Join us for the April 2025 BCG Monthly Telephone Briefing, which will provide an overview of the Trump Presidential Administration's sweeping impact on the federal lawmaking, rulemaking, and enforcement efforts affecting financial institutions. From rollbacks of rulemaking efforts to shifts in agency priorities, this presentation will examine how the new presidential administration has impacted financial institution oversight and regulation. We will also discuss some surprising developments, such as continued efforts by banking examiners to enforce UDAP/UDAAP and continued UDAP scrutiny on fee structures. This presentation will offer valuable insights into the intersection of politics and banking laws, regulations, and enforcement priorities.
