

BCG Monthly Telephone Briefing

October 2015

BSA and Providing Services to High-risk Businesses

One of the longstanding BSA principles is that the cornerstone to a strong compliance program is the adoption and implementation of comprehensive customer due diligence (CDD) policies and procedures for all customers, particularly those that are deemed higher risk. Due to the important nature of CDD, the federal banking agencies have issued numerous advisories and guidance concerning the obligations of financial institutions in providing financial services to high-risk businesses. At this month's BCG Telephone Briefing we will discuss recent developments in this area, including regulatory expectations when institutions provide services to different types of high-risk businesses, including money service businesses and third-party payment processors.
