Financial institutions have an obligation to properly identify and document both new and existing customers and should ensure that they are dealing with the individuals authorized to act for a particular customer. Trying to determine not only the customer's "legal name" but also who is authorized to act on behalf of a particular customer and whether that customer poses a BSA risk is becoming increasingly more difficult.

Please join us as we discuss account documentation in a way that will help your institution satisfy its CIP obligations, including identifying the individuals authorized to act on behalf of business and fiduciary customers. This Webinar will be a helpful learning experience for both seasoned and less experienced new accounts personnel.

Because these same documentation requirements apply when identifying individual and business loan applicants, this Webinar will also be helpful to loan officers and other lending personnel.
